The Redskins'

Without long-standing traditions and the inspiration to create new traditions a high school carries no name, no memories, no high school spirit, no story of its history, no school legend.

As true Redskins North Siders have handed down to their classmates, year after year, many traditions. These traditions have planted themselves in the minds and hearts of North Side's alumni, faculty, graduating seniors, and underclassmen.

Each passing year adds to the school legend a record of its happenings. Now the class of '61 is prepared to contribute a record of this year's events. The thrill in the Redskins' hearts whenever the student body stood to honor the coach and team; the noon traffic jams in stairwells as hungry students hurried to lunch; good organization, campaigning, and friendly pep talks for favorite candidates during class elections; and pledges made to do better as students received mid-term grades are all included in this record. These long-remembered events, the traditions, compose The Redskins' Legend.

Legend

First Day of the School Year

The North Side front steps and sidewalks are crowded with Redskin students, old and new, on the first day of the school year.

Working at Johnny's, North Side boys enjoy serving their friends.

"Whew, is it hot!" "Hi, Liz. What did you do this summer?"

Renewing acquaintances, old friends stood in groups talking of summer adventures. Especially for the new Redskins confusion and excitement filled the air. The class of '61 joyously laid their red carpet and put up their welcoming sign. Thus the first day of a brand-new school year began.

After receiving program cards and attending new classes for 15-minute periods, Redskins swarmed out of the Dome to continue talks initiated earlier that morning.

Introduces Redskins' Legend

A group of seniors skim the Northerner for a preview of the year.

These juniors share the new experience of being upperclassmen.

The traditional senior red carpet is kept in good condition by four senior girls.

Students Repeat Course of Old High School Routine

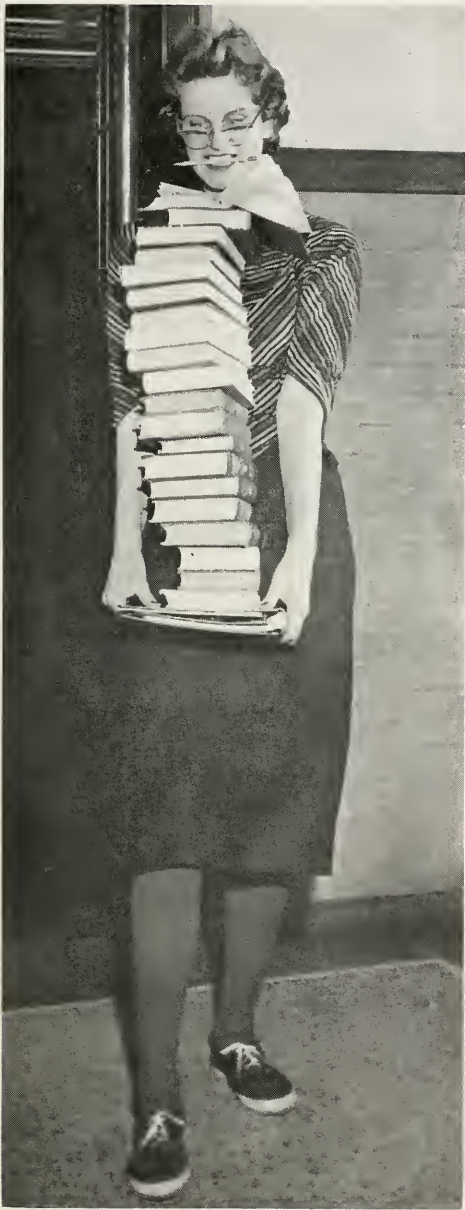

Each morning, between and after classes, students fill the halls.

One-way stairs, locks that never work, split lunch periods, study hall quietude interrupted now and then, and the long bus rides, especially in the early morning, get everyone into the swing of North Side's high school routine.

Contrary to belief, it is not difficult to grow accustomed to school after three months of summer vacation. Greeting old friends and meeting new ones help Redskins become acquainted with the school's schedule for another year. Students look forward to school dances, the games, other school activities, improvement in grades, and new knowledge.

At the end of the day North Siders separate and depart for their homes, some in cars, some on foot, and some by bus.

Studious Barb Allen seems consumed by her desire for knowledge.

Deep in thought Joan, Steve, and Sue Shimer pore over homework.

A big decision is at hand as Jon Smith scans the dessert choices.

Freshmen and sophomores from grade schools and junior highs gather for Orientation to become acquainted with their new school.

Performing for student assemblies, A Cappella Choir affords Redskins an opportunity for entertainment, as well as musical education.

Assemblies and Guidance Form Part of Traditions

Participating in a special Christmas program, Bev Brockett, Gay Fisher, and Jim Cost pose as they recreate the manger scene.

Filing into the North Side auditorium, freshmen and sophomores view the first of two assemblies traditionally presented on Wednesday mornings. Because of North's crowded conditions, it is necessary that the school follow a split assembly program which consists of two 45-minute assemblies, one for freshmen and sophomores and the other for juniors and seniors. The two assemblies are usually identical.

Guidance programs are a Thursday morning project. Approximately 35 minutes are added onto the homeroom period to allow for guidance in the form of an assembly, plans for next semester's schedule, or tests designed to help students choose their future careers.

Dick Brown, Susie Heffley punch answers on Kuder Preference tests.

Victory inspires the student body to chaos as members of the boys' cheering block spill onto the floor after a thrilling game.

Crackling autumn leaves, wool blankets, red and white banners, crowds, and hot chocolate remind Redskins of the exciting football season. The back-to-school feeling of the students and the chilly air created the perfect atmosphere for the fall games. Sometimes, under umbrellas, loyal fans watched through drizzling rain.

The Redskins cheered! As the yell leaders ran onto the gym floor, the drums rolled; and the entire school rose to cheer the basketball team to victory. It was this spirit and enthusiasm of the loyal Redskins that inspired victory throughout the year. Often after athletic events cheerleaders and groups of fans chanted and applauded outside the dressing room.

Donna Bair is stunned by unexpected blow of losing a close one.

"T-E-A-M!" Steve Reader leads boys in girl, boy fight yell.

Redskins Exhibit Unwritten Law of School Spirit

During half-time throngs of loyal spectators flock out of the gymnasium to the concession stand for soft drinks and popcorn.

Annual Varsity Varieties Characterizes Vaudeville

"Swanee, how I love ya, how I love ya, my dear old Swanee." Songs from vaudeville and minstrel shows filled the auditorium on February 16 and 17 as Varsity Varieties brought back the end men, the interlocutor, and the hand-clapping chorus from the old entertainment world. The second act of the variety show featured an exotic oriental dance, a satire on moving pictures and a Parisienne finale.

Varsity Varieties, directed and produced by Mr. James Purkhiser, is North Side's annual talent show for which any student may audition. The show is open to the public for admission.

Norma Peiper and Gay Fisher strike a graceful and balanced pose.

Down by the sea are a few of the Varsity Varieties actresses and actors in one of the final Vaudeville performances of the show.

Dances Contribute to Story of Redskins' Legend

"I could have danced all night." This thought might have whirled in the mind of any girl after one of this year's dances. On weekends Redskins tramped to after-game record hops where they met their friends, danced, and talked.

Formal dances were special, exciting, and lovely. Swirling chiffon gowns, bouffant hairdos, pink carnations, and orchestra music left many memories of a romantic evening. The junior prom was the first all-night party for many members of the class of '62. For the class of 1961, the senior prom meant the last time most of the graduating North Siders would be together for a social activity. Christmas dances, spring informals, and class proms provided enchantment that will linger in the memories of many Redskins for years to come.

"Speakin' Easy at the Black Bottom," Dick Summers and Linda Clouse swing to the Charleston at a spring roaring-twenties dance.

Judy Moore., Steve Konow, Nancy Quinn, Bob Klepper, Beth Marshall, and Ron Armstrong dance to soft music at a Valentine formal.

Keith Mitchell and Bob Havens diligently hunt for their coats.

Del Phis and disc jockey Denny Stewart provide music for a dance.

Customary Cavalcade of Cars Is Still Popular

A contrast between the old-fashioned and the modern automobile is presented by car owners Ron Crick and Dave Smith.

Keith Mitchell, Mary Lou Haberly, and Keith Henschen wait to pull their cars out into the main line of traffic.

Serving the community, North Side juniors Judy Smith and Dick Brown collect contributions for the Fort Wayne Fine Arts Drive.

1961 Adds to Tradition of Redskins in Community

Ushering at the city's concerts, participating in the Fine Arts drive and Festival, and assisting the Christmas Bureau load trucks of gifts for the needy are just a few of the community projects in which Redskins participated this year. Most of the clubs at North Side included in their program a special project which enabled the students to help with community need.

As a part of explaining to students their duty as citizens, North Side, by state law, conducted a mock election in the November week preceding the national elections. The mock election received the whole-hearted support of the student body and was a benefit to all.

Anxiously awaiting to vote are Sharon Doyle and Steve Caple.

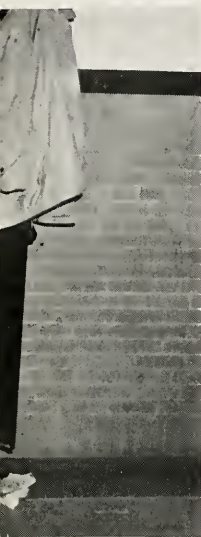

Tobogganning affords Redskins a change from ordinary school week.

Displaying a few types of this year's fashionable boys' clothing are Ron Crabill, Dave Wolfe, Martin Walter, Norm Snow, Tom Garman, and Kirby Miller.

Fads Deserve Recognition in Section of the Legend

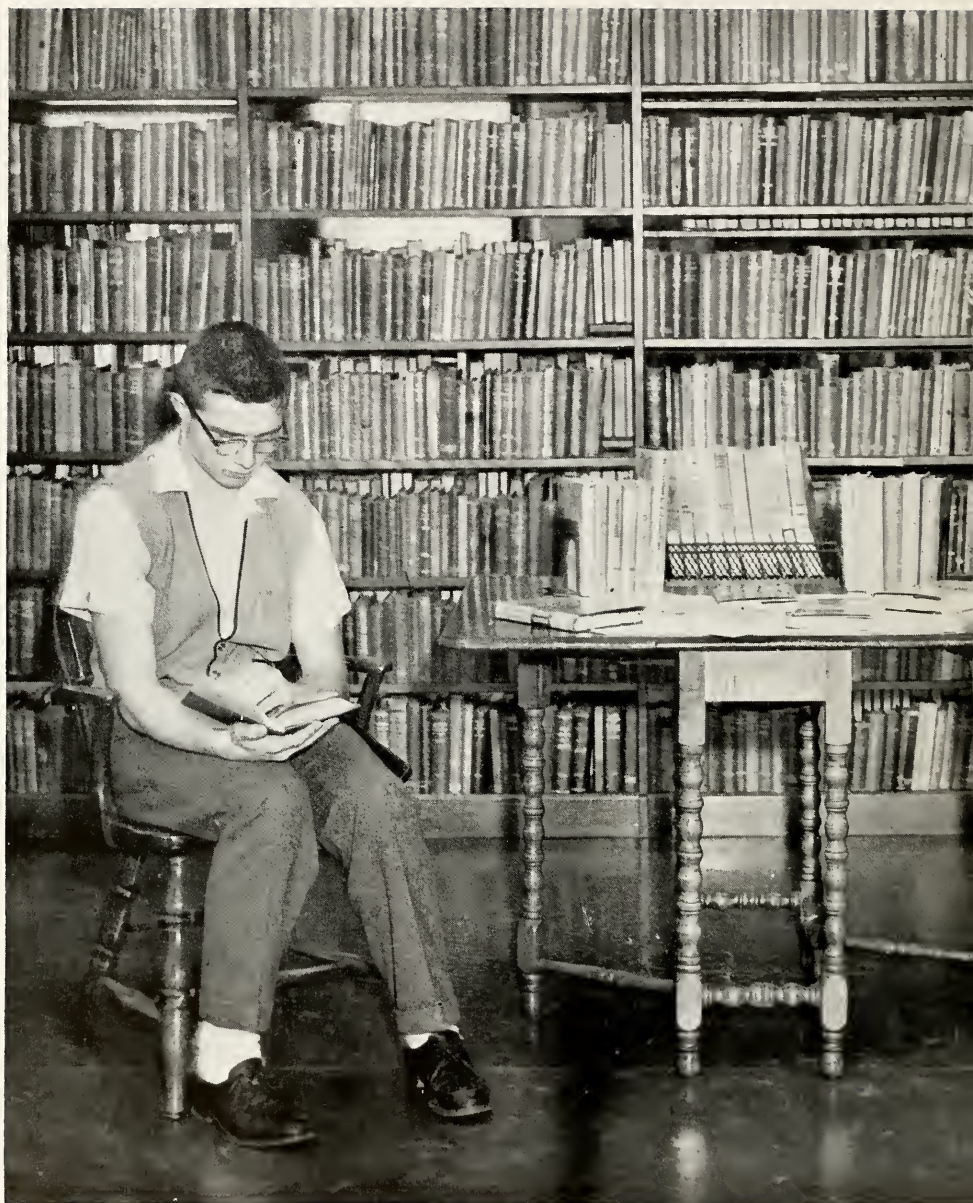

Sophomores Roger Haverfield and Joyce Hayhurst don't seem to realize that North Side lockers just can't hold everything.

If you haven't gone steady or worn bulky-knit sweaters or if you don't like pizza or customized cars, you may be considered a little bit "square." Crew-neck sweaters, leotards, pointed-toed shoes, and knee-skimmer skirts were popular outfits for girls. The girls' hemlines were shorter, and the collars on their blouses were bigger. Almost everything came in frosted grape or plum colors. For recreation Redskins went to movies and athletic events, ate hamburgers and French-fried onion rings, listened to Johnny Mathis and Bob Newhart, and jumped on trampolines.

Senior steadies Stevie Richards and Denny Stewart pause to look back into the past while on the threshold of the future.

True to Legend Redskins Maintain High Scholastic

Mastering English Proves A Challenging Art

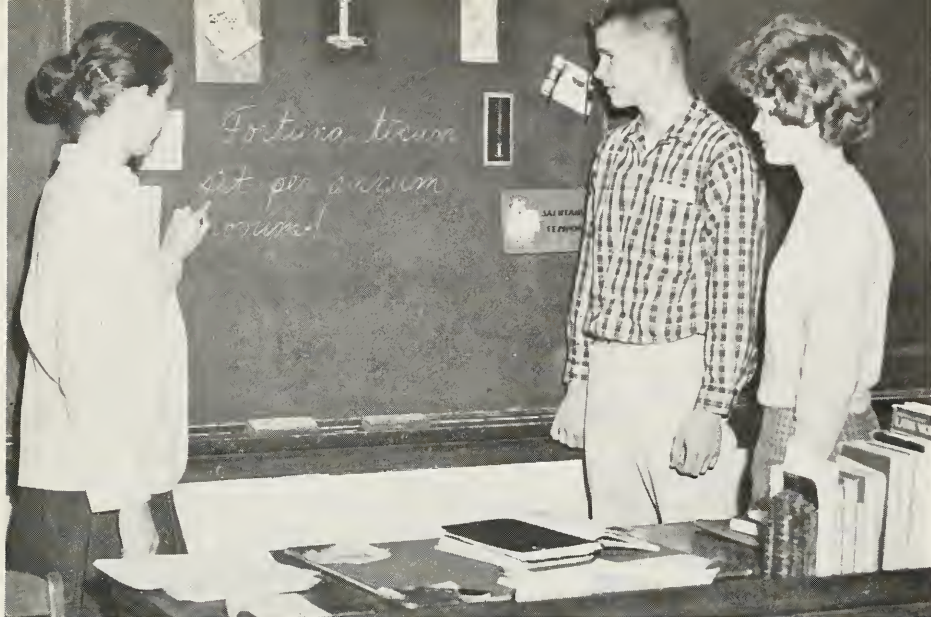

The Brudis find a quiet place for work on term papers and themes.

Becoming acquainted with Odysseus, William Shakespeare, Julius Caesar, Macbeth, and Cyrano de Bergerac proved an exciting experience to North Siders as they learned more about their native language. As freshmen, English students drilled on verbals, sentence construction, and studied the Odyssey of Homer. Sophomores learned to overcome their awe of Shakespeare's works and to find their depth of meaning and beauty of construction. Every junior knows the valuable experience gained from writing term papers and memorizing lines from Macbeth. English 7 students learned to understand and evaluate short stories, plays, essays, and poetry. English 8, required for those intending to go to college, centered around a study of Dickens' Tale of Two Cities and lessons in finer points of creative writing.

Miss Little checks to be sure that a new member of the English 8 class is understanding the work on "The Tale of Two Cities."

Colorful Christmas greetings designed by the students and composed in Latin are displayed by Nancy Hunt, Bob Cummins, and Carol Lash.

In Foreign Languages We Gain World Knowledge

Student teacher Mr. Martin Tierny sings a few tunes in Spanish.

"Como esta usted?," "J'entre dans la salle de classe," or "Veni, vidi, vici," are familiar phrases to students in the foreign language department. Whether they are taking Spanish, French, or Latin, these North Siders strive to master several phrases during their course of study.

Reading and writing the language are stressed most. Students memorize rules for the declension of nouns, conjugation of verbs, and placement of direct objects. Having learned these rules, the students then find they must learn the exceptions to the rules and the idiomatic expressions. Those studying French or Spanish drill on proficiency in speaking and understanding. Latin students place more emphasis on the study of great works by Caesar.

Normally, foreign language courses require only two years of work. However, students may elect to take advanced work.

Overcoming Stage Fright Gives Speaker Confidence

To be able to speak before a group with poise, skill, and assurance is the aim of students in the speech department, and they spend many hours trying to achieve this goal. Speech 1 is designed to help students overcome their initial fear in speaking before a group. They begin with "icebreaker" speeches and proceed to the use of the microphone. They learn to speak easily without the use of such "crutches" as notes and reliance on the lectern.

In their second semester of speech, students develop the use of gestures through pantomimes and learn to speak with their bodies as well as with their voices. Speech composition and discussion techniques are also taught, so that students preparing for original oratory in speech contests may benefit.

Dramatics, which acquaint the student with all phases of the theater, and stagecraft, in which pupils learn about theater productions behind the scenes, are also offered to students whose interests lie in those areas.

Having made an important point, Ron Harshman concludes his speech.

Students of speech learn to portray emotions without verbal expression through the use of pantomime play. With this and other techniques the speakers learn the importance of gestures and facial expression as a part of their delivery.

Business Students Prepare for Office Careers

"Dear Mr. Smith . . .," "Stop!," "Transcribe!" These words are heard daily in the rooms of the business department. The minute the key words are pronounced, the student must be poised and ready to respond quickly and accurately. Classes included in the business department are not only typing and shorthand, but also book-keeping, consumer education, business law, and business organization and management. New this year is a course in typing and spelling. In order to do a more thorough job, the business department installed additional modern typewriters, calculators, electronic transcribers, and adding machines to their equipment in January of this year.

Racing with the clock, a first semester typing class shows the speed and dexterity it has gained in its first ten-minute test.

With a brilliant flash of light, oxygen combusts as Sandra Cooper and Bonnie Dolnick observe what they have produced.

We Study Nature, Mix Chemicals, Seek Reasons

Whether it be the dissection of a grasshopper, the manufacture of hydrogen, or the study of a swinging pendulum, the opportunities for projects open to Redskins in the science department courses are many and varied. One year of study in science is required on all courses except the academic course, which requires two years. Freshmen usually elect physical geography, the study of the causes and effects of the weather and terrain, or biology, the study of the basic laws concerning living matter. Those taking more than one year of science may elect either chemistry, physics, or botany. In chemistry, North Siders are introduced to the basic concepts of the composition of matter and progress in the study of equations and problems of weight and proportion. Physics offers knowledge in the causes of and formulas for everyday happenings. Those who are curious about the scientific theories of plant life may study botany.

Mr. Hinton points out the wonders of nature to a biology class.

Demonstrating botanical technique are Don Hutton, Linda Haynes.

Accompanied by the whirr of the sewing machine, Janet Bone is displaying domestic dexterity by creating an attractive ensemble.

Home Artists Cook, Cut, Master Practical Skills

Sparks fly as a manual arts pupil wields an acetylene torch.

A zipper foot, an arc welder, a spatula, a hand sander—these pieces of equipment are used every day in the home arts department.

For the feminine Redskins, classes in such practical fields as cooking, sewing, home nursing, and child care are offered. These studies are enhanced by such special projects as the visits of nurses and infants, and style shows displaying the handiwork of the students.

Boys at North may study courses in drafting, cabinet making and woodworking, and general metal and technology. Additional welding equipment and an electric hand sander are new equipment to the department. This year, the courses have been altered somewhat, with more emphasis being placed on technological knowledge.

Human Interests Are Examined and Compared,

In today's fast-moving and rapidly changing world courses involving world events, both past and present, are a vital part of every student's curriculum. For this reason, North Side's social science department is necessarily a large one.

Due to the fact that there will be no freshmen at the Dome next semester, this is the last year that citizenship, generally a freshman subject, will be offered. In general history, sophomores are given a general background of the history of the world, covering practically everything from Alaska to Zeus. Juniors taking U. S. history study in greater detail the history of our country. Civics and economics expand a student's knowledge of his government. Sociology is the study of the functions of human groups.

Joyce Hayhurst keeps the class informed of international events.

Linda Jones animatedly discusses a problem with panel members.

Future Mathematicians Try to Figure Out Solution

Jack Hamilton and David Wyss explore the use of models which exhibit solid geometry problems, as other class members observe.

With only a pencil and paper, and some logical thinking, many North Side students learned to solve equations in Algebra. In the second year of mathematics Redskins found they not only needed to use compasses and protractors but a sharpened reasoning skill to find the solutions to geometric theorems. Many Redskins who went on to take Algebra 3 discovered that there were additional types of problems which tested their knowledge. Solid geometry also presented new ideas. For those who wished to continue with advanced mathematics, North Side offered a course in trigonometry and a revised college algebra course which has been designed to utilize a more modern approach to algebraic topics.

Helping students prove a log theorem is Mr. Glen Bickel.

Students Create Vocal and Instrumental Harmony

Inspired by moments of band trips of the past, Varsity Band, enthusiastically conducted by Mr. Hatt, puts polish on a difficult selection.

Varsity Choir members practice to perfect a concert selection.

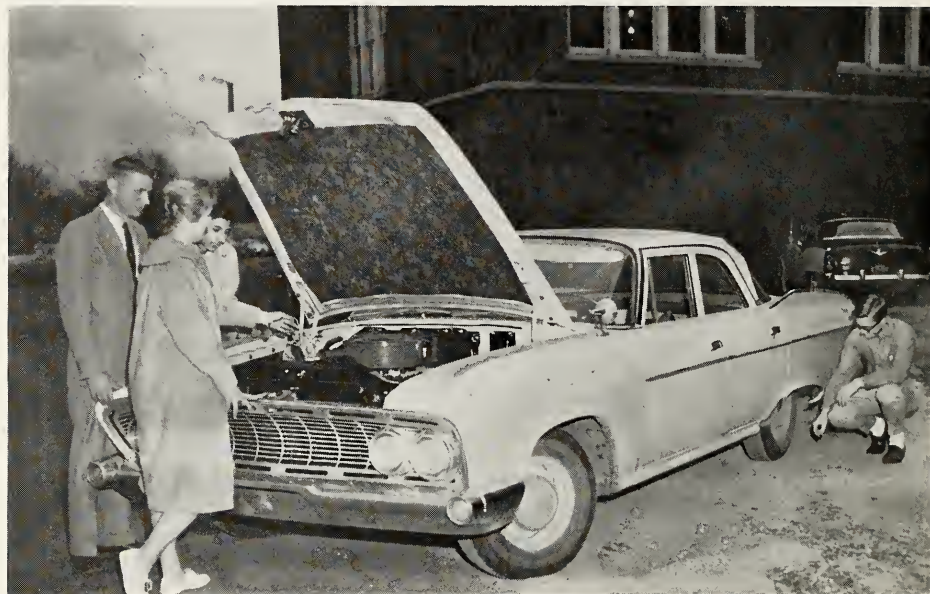

Students with talent in either vocal or instrumental music are welcomed by the music department.

North Siders who enjoy singing may join either Girls' Choir or Male Choir. If they are qualified, they may be asked to join Varsity Choir or Chicas Cantantes. The latter was formed just this year and is an advanced Girls' Choir, consisting mainly of upper-classmen chosen from Varsity and Girls' Choir. Members of A Cappella, North's top choir, are chosen by audition only, and Chansonettes and Triple Trio are ensembles formed by members of A Cappella.

Orchestra, Concert Band, and Varsity Band make up the instrumental department. Varsity Band provides underclassmen with training for later participation in Concert Band. Music appreciation and instrument practice periods are also offered to any interested students.

North Siders Improve Habits and Perspectives

Before departing for a lesson, Mr. Kline shows driver education pupils how to inspect the automobile for safety precautions.

Health pupils inspect "Duchess," a model of the body structure.

By means of health, home nursing, and drivers' training, North Side provides a well-rounded and varied health and safety program.

In health classes, students have the opportunity to further their knowledge of body functions and to learn basic good health habits. If a student has taken at least one year of home economics, he may elect home nursing instead of health. The home nursing course teaches the student proper procedures in case of illness in the family, and it also prepares the student for parenthood.

Drivers' training is a course which has proved very popular in recent years. The goal in this course is to provide North Siders with the knowledge and ability to be well-qualified drivers.

Creativity, Imagination Produce Good Art Work

Printing and inspecting the finished product for artistic merit, graphics students are hard at work at the lithographic machine.

Whether he be an aspiring artist, or one who enjoys just trying his skills and understanding the techniques of the masters, a North Sider may elect several varied courses offered by the art department. The most general knowledge is gained in classes which study painting and crafts. Here the student begins to understand the basic skills. If he desires to specialize further, he may wish to study a course in lettering, a skill which must be mastered by all further commercial artists.

A more classical field of study is offered by the life drawing class. Here artistic Redskins learn to portray life, often practicing by sketching classmates. This year a new semester of study, Art 7, offers the opportunity to experiment in graphics, which is the expression of ideas by lines or marks impressed into a surface. A new graphics press has been acquired especially for this class. The North Side art department is one of the few in Indiana high schools to have this piece of equipment.

In Honor and Recognition Redskins Indicate Pride

Those juniors and seniors with special skill in studies may be placed in accelerated classes. In order to discuss their lessons before class, Carol Frazee, Sherry Hatfield, Barbara Brudi, and Jim Orcutt meet at the information desk.

North Siders excelling in school work and maintaining an average of ninety or above are recognized at the end of each semester by being placed on the honor roll. Graduating seniors having an average of ninety or above for four years compose the four-year honor roll.

Perhaps the most long-remembered assembly at North is the Recognition Day Assembly in which Redskins who are outstanding in scholarship, school service, or departmental work are presented with honors. Underclassmen are inspired and incited to do better work by the speeches of the Valedictorian and Salutatorian, a customary part of the Senior Day Assembly.

A local television station gave students an opportunity to display their academic talents on a quiz program. Here Steve Caple shows winning form as the light indicates he has the answer.

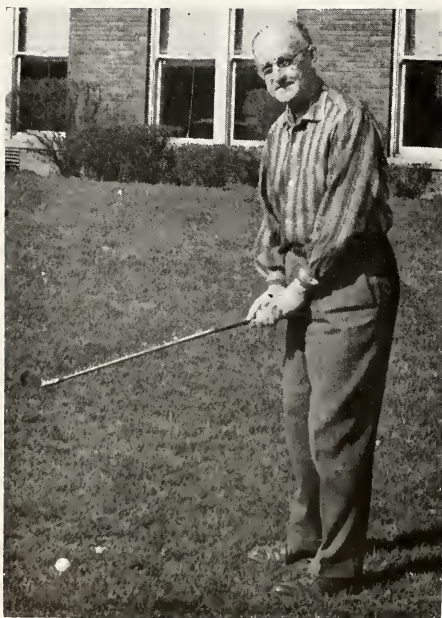

Faculty Offers Knowledge, Guidance, Inspiration

According to Custom

Robertson Leadership Key to North's Achievements

Jack-of-all-trades could aptly describe North Side's principal, Mr. O. Dale Robertson, for the demands of his position call for a versatile storehouse of talents. Aside from his more formal office duties, Mr. Robertson also attends PTA functions, school concerts and plays, and sports events. Though his day be filled with a multitude of exacting responsibilities, Mr. Robertson is never too occupied to give his attention to a student seeking his direction. In this capacity Mr. Robertson excells as leader and adviser to both faculty and students.

For recreation Mr. Robertson enjoys a few strokes on the green.

Mr. Robertson climbs the steps that lead to another busy, active day. In his job he encounters many challenging tasks.

Combining their efforts, Mrs. Graham, secretary to the principal, and Mr. Robertson strive for efficiency in the office.

One of Mr. Robertson's duties is to confer periodically with Superintendent of the Fort Wayne Schools, Mr. Aaron T. Lindley.

Guidance of North Side

Aiding students in charting future plans after high school, Mr. William Anthis, Dean of Boys, has proved many times to be an invaluable source of assistance for every Redskin. To all who seek his guidance is extended the warmth and understanding of a true friend. Each student at North Side is indebted to Mr. Anthis for the advice and counseling he has given.

Teachers, Parents Pool Efforts to Guide Students

Among the topics included in the PTA program was a discussion led by Miss Marion Bash.

In the quest of establishing better understanding between teachers and parents, in the hope of better guiding the students and children toward successful paths of life, the Parent Teachers Association planned a kaleidoscope of activities during the year.

Highlighting various projects was a series of study programs dealing with student-teacher relations, early teen-age marriages, and the current reading material of our children. The Penny Collection and Clothing Bank were additional projects undertaken by the PTA. Themes for various PTA meetings included a birthday observance for Founders Day, a potluck supper, and a spring tea for senior mothers.

Officers for the current PTA year were Mrs. William Bade, Mrs. William Gore, Mrs. Robert Schanlaub, Mr. Franzman, and Mrs. Robert Smith.

Faculty Leisure Projects Span Variety of Topics

Agile Mr. Fredricks shows one of the many stunts he has mastered through his work at the trampoline centers during summer vacation.

Stimulating, active classroom events characterize the day of every North Side faculty member, many of whom devote additional hours serving as advisers for clubs and class social functions. In addition to its activities at school, the faculty enjoys a variety of recreational and educational hobbies.

Traveling, reading, and gardening prove to be among the most popular leisure activities. Many faculty members exercise their talents and skills through the art and design medium; others seek relaxation through a variety of sports. Whatever his favorite hobby, the faculty member continually endeavors to broaden his scope of interests to better serve North Side.

Admiring an at-home project are Mrs. Johnson and family.

A final touch completes Mr. McClead's interpretive painting.

Hi-Fi enthusiasts, Mr. and Mrs. Weber, relax with music.

By the glow of the fireplace, Mr. and Mrs. Hey enjoy pursuing their hobby of planning journeys to near and far-away places.

Maintenance Crew Keeps School Running Smoothly

The staff of workers who keep the Dome bright and shiny are Harold Pelz, Francis Harte, Oscar Buttner, Gerald Lhamon, Richard Reed, Carl Frankenstein, Laurence Harrison, Wayne Polley, and Ervin Dellinger.

Traditional Student Roll Call Serves as a Memorial

of the Year of 1961

Margaret, Diane to Prepare for Teaching Careers

Margaret Johnson

Valedictorian Margaret Johnson characterizes the good student who is also interested and active in extracurricular affairs at school and in her community.

Accumulating the top grade average in the Class of 1960, Margaret has majored in English and Spanish, with minors in mathematics and social studies. She is a member of A Cappella and Chansonettes, which also occupy some of her outside-of-school time.

Her interest in Future Teachers of America and her job as secretary of Modern Language Club are indicative of her career plans, which presently are centered around being a Spanish teacher. Next fall she intends to enter Indiana University, where she will major in Spanish and English.

At school, Margaret has participated in Student Council, Globetrotters, Polar-Y, Junior Red Cross, and the cheering block. She has contributed time to the school office as a service worker.

The youth group of Trinity Episcopal Church is included in her community activities, as is Job's Daughters, of which she is a member.

Diane Regedanz

Diane Regedanz, salutatorian, has set for the Class of 1960 and succeeding classes examples in both scholastic achievement and interest in extracurricular affairs.

On the academic course at North, Diane has achieved the second-highest grade average in her class while majoring in languages, mathematics, English, history, and science.

Looking forward to a career in teaching in elementary schools, she plans to continue her education at Ball State Teachers College.

Diane has edited the academic section of the 1961 Legend. She has participated, during her high school years, in activities of the Student Council, Junior Classical League, Polar-Y, the cheering block; as treasurer of Helicon, as social chairman and secretary of Globetrotters, and as secretary and vice-president of Modern Language Club.

She has also found time for school service work in the principal's office and at the information desk.

Fifty-Five Constitute '61 Four-Year Honor Roll

The four-year honor roll is made up of seniors who have attained a ninety or above grade average all their years at North. Those who qualified by maintaining the average are Sandra J. Adams, Barbara J. Allen, Carolyn L. Amelung, Donna Jean Bair, Janet C. Beck, Bradley J. Bendure, Janice E. Benecke, William J. Benninghoff, Susanne F. Blough, Barbara Sue Brudi, William J. Buesching, William S. Caple, Anna Louise Carey, Sandra A. Cooper, Diane Sue Cornelius, Barbara Jean Cross.

Also, Sharon Ann Emrick, James K. Finch, Gay Fisher, Kathryn L. Foy, Carol Sue Frazee, Pamela J. Friend, Richard W. Geist, Lois A. Gump, Mary Lou Haberly, Linda Jean Haynes, Margaret A. Johnson, Carol A. Johnston, William H. Johnston, Jayne B. Jordan.

Also, Wanda Lou Kahlenbeck, Thomas H. Lapp, Michael J. Laughlin, Sandra Kay Mallett, Judith Ann McArthur, Patricia J. McMeekin, Michael C. Moore, Kay R. Morris, Michael L. Nahrwold, Patricia Ann Parker, Joan A. Parsons, Patricia Ann Pence, Charlotte Diane Regedanz, Stephanie Y. Richards, Joyce E. Richhart, Nancy K. Rinehart, Patricia L. Roop.

Also, Ellen L. Schaper, William O. Schelm, Judy M. Schnepf, Michele Rae Seaman, Karen A. Stieglitz, Elizabeth A. Stone, Diane L. Tate, and Jerry B. Warsaw.

Two other seniors, Marilyn Gordon, who attended North Side two years, and David E. Mitchell, who was here one year, have grade averages which qualify them for the four-year honor roll.

Officers, Advisers Lead Class a Step into Future

To the top with the class of '61 was the goal of the senior class officers. Led by Randy Roberts as president, the class enjoyed the senior play, senior banquet, and the senior prom. These functions were guided by Mrs. Janet Weber and Mr. Wade Fredrick as chairmen of the 1961 class advisers.

The senior class officers worked far in advance on all social events, such as the prom, commencement, and baccalaureate. During the class officers' meetings, they discussed all senior activities, chose committees for each activity, and planned specific programs. After every event the officers met to examine all parts of the previous program and try to improve on weaknesses in order to better future activities.

The Class of 1961 will remember late spring. It was then they learned their valedictorian and salutatorian, were inspired at their baccalaureate, danced 'til midnight at their prom amid grape arbors and fountains, and finally strode proudly forward to receive their diplomas.

Planning the senior year of '61 were officers Pam Friend, secretary-treasurer; Sandra Cooper, social chairman; Keith Henschen, social council; Brad Bendure, social council; Steve McLean, vice-president; Dick Geist, social council; Tom Lapp, social council Randy Roberts, president.

The senior faculty advisers were Mrs. Janet Weber, Miss Mabel Greenwalt, Mr. Cleon Fleck, Miss Judith Bowen, Mr. Charles Clark, Mrs. Amelia Dare, Mr. Robert Pugh, and Miss Ruth Eudaley. Those not included in the picture were Mr. Ralph Anderson, Miss Marjorie Bell, Mr. Wade Fredrick, Mrs. Jeanne Gause, Mr. Byard Hey, Mr. Donald Kemp, Mr. Roy Kline, Mr. W. H. McNeely, Mrs. Grace Pennington, Miss Margaret Spiegel, and Mr. Harry Young.

Seniors expectantly await the arrival of the honored speaker, Mr. Phil Eskew.

Banquet, Commencement Make Year Memorable

The 1961 senior banquet was held at the Scottish Rite Ballroom with Mr. Phil Eskew, Superintendent of the Huntington Public Schools, as guest speaker. Seniors Ron Cummings, Barbara Allen, Jim Finch, and Randy Roberts also spoke.

Commencement means the end of four years of high school life for the graduating seniors. Many will not meet again, but the joys shared will never depart from their minds.

As last year's seniors are pictured awaiting the highest point of their high school career, the class of 1961 will soon don caps and gowns to participate in its commencement ceremony.

"George Washington Slept Here" – Hit of the Year

"George Washington Slept Here," a comedy in three acts, was presented by the senior class of 1961. When Newton Fuller (Dave Walley) bought an old broken down house in the country, without even the convenience of water, Annabelle Fuller (Diane Cornelius) became an enraged woman. Mr. Kimber (Jim Finch), who was the hired hand, always found something else that needed repair or improvement. Finally it came to the point where the Fullers ran out of money and had to give up the house. The Fuller daughter, Madge (Sherry Hatfield), and Madge's boyfriend, Steve (Bill Johnson), found the place too exciting and wonderful to give up. Mr. Prescott (Dave Wolff), the obnoxious neighbor, had planned on taking over the Fuller place until Uncle Stanley (Steve Moser), pretending to be the rich uncle, announced that he would donate five thousand dollars to save the house. With all their problems solved, the Fuller household was a happy one once again.

"Who do you think is going to pay for all those things out there?"

The Fuller family and two other newcomers to the vicinity are engrossed in discussing the aspects of the local summer theater.

Many Senior Activities Crowd the Date Calendar

Greeted by senior officers, Butch Snow, Ellen Schaper, Bud Stolt arrive at the Senior Banquet anticipating a wonderful evening.

Slim, trim Steve McLean's secret is to party with exercise.

"Mmm, those pizzas sure look delicious!" say four senior chefs.

Comment, Roberts, Fuller, Crabill Head Juniors

Becoming upperclassmen, an experience that is new and exciting to each junior, was enjoyed this year by the class of sixty-two. Through the year the class was led by Jeff Comment, president; Jim Roberts, vice-president; Jon Fuller, secretary-treasurer; and Ron Crabill, chairman of the social council. Faculty leadership was provided by Miss Pat Fleming.

The National Merit Scholarship tests provide trying moments for North Side juniors determined to be future college scholars.

A few tired junior girls welcome a hearty breakfast after a delightfully sleepless night spent at Sue Dobberkau's slumber party.

Sandra Brown, Maria Roman, Bev Bruckett, and Sharon Horn make crepe paper dogwood blossoms for their junior prom on April 29.

Prom, "Serenade in Jade" Climaxes Junior Year

The climax of every junior's social year is the junior prom. This year "Serenade in Jade" was no exception. Held at the Scottish Rite Ballroom, the prom featured decorations centered around a spring theme. As the couples crossed the bridge at the entrance, they entered a room filled with dogwood flowers. A park area consisting of a fountain and benches decorated the center of the room. The juniors and their dates danced to the music of Al Cobine. The cooperation of the officers, faculty advisers, and the committees made the prom the success that it was. The committee chairmen were Paul Raver and Marla Lantz, decorations; Teresa Richard, chaperones; Kay Johnston, programs; Donna Dowell, refreshments; Pat Ormiston, tickets; and Sherry McKay and Dick Willis, publicity.

Time out from band as Marla Lantz gossips with Jeanne Keller.

Sherry McKay, Dick Ungerer enjoy birthday party in Dick's honor.

Bundled up for a chilly evening, a group of junior girls loyally cheer the team on to victory in an exciting football game.

First of Junior High Graduates Are Now Redskins

Although some were new to North this year and some were year-old veterans of the school, the class of 1963 worked as a unit which had never been separated. Scott Pitzer, social chairman; Steve Esterline, president; Greg Meister, vice-president; and Mike Painter, secretary-treasurer were elected as leaders of the sophomore class. Mr. James Lewinski served as sophomore class adviser.

At a lively slumber party, held at the home of Sharon Adams, a few sophomore girls ham it up by staging an imaginary concert.

Steve Konow and George Bryce seem to be wondering where all the girls are.

Before attending a show, sophomores Kathy Haughey, Joe Hagadorn, Don Elbrecht, Barb Barrett have a small, informal get-together.

Juanita Altekruze, Judy Haffner, Karen Faulkner, Doris Houser, and Jo Ellen Ganter share their collections of favorable snapshots.

Small Freshman Class Has Big Plans, High Hopes

In anticipation of the future, the freshman officers gaze longingly at the Senior Door. The majority of 86 per cent of the freshman class cast their votes for Pat Homcyer, social director; Nannette Friend, secretary-treasurer; Jim Irwin, president; and Ed Hatcher, vice-president.

Student Council Launches Campaign Against Debris

Composed of elected representatives from all home rooms and from the various clubs, Student Council undertakes many projects to better the conditions in and around school. In the spring of this year, under Mr. Robertson's direction, Student Council organized a clean-up campaign. New trash barrels were situated around the school and signs were put up to help make the students become more conscious of the trash problem. Again this year, the club sponsored two war orphans and collected food and clothing for needy families during the Christmas season.

The Student Safety Council, one portion of the Student Council, devotes its time to making the student body more conscious of safe and courteous driving.

Student Council officers are Dave Smith, vice-president; Mark field, secretary; Denny Stewart, parliamentarian; and Dave Clark,

In Producing Yearbook, Staff Aims for Perfection

The Legend editor and her assistant with the index and copy editors correct and revise completed work on their yearbook dummy.

Stevie Richards was editor of this year's Legend, and Sandy Cooper was assistant editor. Diane Regedanz edited the academic section, and Kathy Haughey assisted her. Janet Beck, assisted by Cheri Crandall, edited the faculty section. Jan Schrey, with assistant Carol Carroccio, directed the senior section. Barb Brudi, with Joyce Richhart as assistant, edited the junior section. Linda Duncan, assisted by Sharon Adams, headed the sophomore section. Nancy Rinehart, aided by Barb Beyerlein, directed the freshman section. Barbara Allen, along with Sylvia Grant and Marla Lantz, headed the activities section. Jack Hamilton, aided by Jim Nolan, edited the sports section. Donna Bair, assisted by Judy Smith, planned the index. Ron Crick was business manager, and Doug Boren assisted him. Copy editors were Linda Lutton and Sandy Castret. The photographers were Dave Laws, Tom Cross, Martin Walter, and Don Elbrecht. Randy Roberts, assisted by Jayne Jordan, was art editor. Miss Norma Thiele gave her time to the sponsorship of the yearbook.

Northerner Staff Struggles

Checking the records and balancing the books is the Northerner advertising staff's main duty.

Frank Pipino proofreads sports galleys while Ron Cummings makes suggestions for layouts, and Jim Nolan Supervises staff's work.

Studying the style book, Northerner reporters meet periodically to review copy reading, stylewriting, and symbols used in correcting copy.

with Weekly Deadlines

Every week deadlines must be made if the North Side paper, the Northerner, is to be distributed to students each Friday morning. Members of the first semester's staff, who had the responsibility of publishing the Northerner, were Dale Terry, editor-in-chief; Bonnie Dolnick, news editor; Judy Smith, feature editor; Jim Nolan, sports editor; Doug Boren, business manager; Judy Pontius, business assistant; Harriet High, advertising manager; Stan Needham, advertising assistant; Frank Pipino, circulation manager; Margie Angus, circulation assistant; Sherry McKay, classroom news editor; Sue Gramling, exchange editor; Pat Tweedy, point recorder; Nancy Hunt, correspondent; and Joyce Hayhurst, special news writer. In addition, there were various reporters on the staff. Faculty adviser of the Northerner is Miss Norma Thiele.

Jim Nolan makes up dummy while Barb Schecter reads over copy.

Judy Smith, Bonnie Dolnick, Sherry McKay, and Dale Terry discuss plans for the layout of next week's issue of the Northerner.

Journalism Participants Join Honor Organizations

As students develop their journalistic powers and have their works published in the Northerner, they accumulate points. After a writer has earned 1500 points, he may join the 1500 Club, an national journalism honorary society. For this he receives a pin. The student may continue to write and earn pins for 2500, 5000, and 10,000 points.

Quill and Scroll is another journalism honorary. It is very difficult to attain this award. The recipient must be in the upper third of his class, a senior, and a valuable member of his school's journalism department. Three North Side students were made members of Quill and Scroll this year. They are Stevie Richards, Sandy Cooper, and Dale Terry.

Quill and Scroll members are Sandra Cooper, Dale Terry, and Stevie Richards.

County Infirmary Party Highlights Helicon Year

Helicon book sale attracts students to the library twice a year.

Through its theme for the year, "Contemporary Literature," and its activities, Helicon has provided an opportunity for its members to increase their literary knowledge.

Dr. Sylvia Bowman, professor and novelist, was a guest speaker October 18. Students added to the Christmas spirit by distributing gifts to persons in the Allen County Infirmary; and Santa Claus, portrayed by Steve Caple, climaxed the party. They also presented their after-game dance, "Frosty Frolic," in January; and the Lincoln-Washington Assembly in February. Other projects included a paper-back book sale and an annual gift to the school.

The advisers are Miss Mildred Huffman, Miss Mabel Greenwalt, and Mr. Robert Pugh.

Helicon was organized by Mrs. Edith Winslow, a former North Side teacher, in October, 1933.

First row: Dick Ungerer—treasurer, Denny Stewart—vice-president, Bill Buesching—secretary, Tom Lapp—president, Dave Smith, Bud Hamilton. Second row: Steve Pence, Jerry Bryce, Dave Walley, Jon Rabus, Joe Hagadorn, Steve Leggett, Larry Scott. Key Club Compiles and Distributes N.S. Directory

Organized in 1956 and sponsored by the Northeast Kiwanis Club, Key Club serves the school and community in every way possible. The club builds leadership qualities and good character to aid its members in the future. Membership is open to any sophomore, junior, or senior boy recommended and approved by club members.

For the fourth year Key Club published the North Side Key, a student directory; planted trees along the flood wall; purchased spotlights and an intercom system for the auditorium; and furnished dictionaries for the study hall.

The advisers are Mr. Clive Wert and Mr. Glen Bickel.

Social Science Club Marches in Veterans' Parade

"You're out of step!" "Gee, it's cold tonight!" These were a few comments shouted by Globetrotters' members as they marched in the Veterans' Day parade. Globetrotters, directed by Miss Katherine Rothenberger and Mr. Harold Young, also included a Christmas party and spring picnic in this year's activities.

A service club during World War II, Globetrotters now strives to stimulate interest in world affairs.

First row: Leslie Gaston, Diane Regedanz—social chairman, Ellen Schaper, Dennis Stewart—president, Howard Habig—treasurer, Mary Lou Haberly, Kathy Foy—vice-president, Donna Bair, Bernice Millette. Classicists Strive for Knowledge of Roman Life

Junior Classical League, under the supervision of Miss Judith Bowen, Mrs. Amelia Dare, and Mrs. Janet Weber, encourages and promotes knowledge and understanding of the Roman culture, civilization, literature, and art. The members are taken beyond their daily classroom work in the study of the Latin language and background.

North Side's Junior Classical League is a local chapter of the National JCL organization. The club's activities for the year included a Christmas party and the presentation of the after-game dance, "Winter Warm-Up."

Modern Linguists Learn Customs of France, Spain

Sandy Adams leads the line at the annual M.L.C. Christmas party.

The Spanish Club and the French Club joined together in 1955 to form the Modern Language Club.

The purpose of the club is to further the students' interest in their foreign languages and to increase their knowledge of the customs, geography, government, and people of the country in which this particular language is spoken.

The year's activities included a Christmas party with JCL, a spring picnic, and the after-game dance, "Winter Warm-Up."

The club has helped to expand the audio-visual aids in the language department and, with JCL, has purchased a punch bowl set for the school.

Advisers for the club are Miss Frances Plumanns and Mr. Paul Lemke.

First row: Leslie Gaston, Sherry Hatfield, Nancy Tennant—president, Liz Stone, Barbara Brudi—treasurer. Second row: Judy Pontius, Joyce Hayhurst, Judith Ann Leach, Sharon Eriar, Aleta Howard, Judy Kienle, Carolyn Demsey, Harriet High, Judy Moore, Judi Shubert. FTA Studies Career Possibilities in Teaching

Future Teachers of America was founded in 1950 to assist students in developing a greater interest in teaching and to give them an opportunity to evaluate their qualifications for this field. F.T.A. also strives to develop responsible leadership.

This fall the officers and some members attended the State F.T.A. Convention at Indianapolis where Art Hafner was installed as state secretary. In December the club sponsored an after-game dance with members Flo Winkler and Pat Pence as disc jockeys.

Other items in the club's program this year included lectures, skits, movies, a Christmas party, and a spring picnic.

The advisers of F.T.A. are Mr. James Lewinski and Mrs. Grace Pennington.

Bill Benninghoff gains teaching experience while helping out in an English class. Student help is one of the services of F.T.A.

First row: Barbara Beyerlein, Carolyn Keller, Judy Scheele, Elaine Duxbury—president, Sylvia Egly—secretary-treasurer, Janet Duxbury, Joyce Richhart—vice-president. Red Cross Coordinates School, Community Efforts

Under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Nusbaum, Junior Red Cross sponsored a game night at the Allen County Home, constructed trays for the Veterans' Hospital, and adopted an elderly lady from the Allen County Old People's Home. As is tradition, Junior Red Cross presented their after-game Valentine dance again this year.

Paste, paper, and patience went into favors for the Veterans' Hospital. A few members are shown creating their masterpieces.

Hi-Y Is School Affiliate of National YMCA

"How much?" Hi-Y leaders gather for a monthly officers meeting.

Creating, maintaining, and extending high standards of moral character throughout the home, school, and community is the goal of the Hi-Y Club, organized in 1929.

Hi-Y, the school branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, is affiliated with the state and national Hi-Y organization. Under the leadership of Mr. John Malott and Mr. Robert Pugh, the club participates in various service projects, such as the annual World Service Drive. Hi-Y buys the twirling uniforms and helps sponsor an annual city-wide dance.

First row: Sandy Potts, Sue Oswald, Nancy Woltz, Aleta Howard, Jane Hatch, Katie Thomas, Sharon Bear, Nancy Speitler, Donna Brudi. Second row: Rosemarie Buerkle, Judith Bulmahn, Mary Moses, Claralyn Shearer, Joyce Hayhurst, Judy Schubert, Gloria Holloper, Gloria Sible, Judy Kienzie. Polar-Y Improves Girls in Mind, Body, and Spirit

Polar-Y, a branch of the YWCA, stands as a symbol for friendship and Christianity. Membership is open to any North Side girl.

In addition to many service projects for the various hospitals, its members also sponsor the Faculty Tea and potato chip sale.

The advisers are Mrs. Amelia Dare and Miss Marjorie Bell.

First row: Georgeanne Hatch, Liz Stone, Ellen Schaper, Barbara Brudi, Donna Bair—secretary-treasurer, Pam Friend—president, Nancy Tennant, Stevie Richards, Marcia Gressley. Phy-Chem Club Seeks Physical Science Knowledge

Stimulating interest and widening the members' knowledge of physical science is the main goal of the Phy-Chem club of North Side. This goal is carried out through the club's programs which include lectures, demonstrations, field trips, and movies. This year Phy-Chem held a Christmas party and a spring picnic for its main social activities. As a service to the school, the club helps to finance the purchase of various equipment for the science department.

Phy-Chem meets every fourth Thursday of each month. Membership is open to all students taking either a chemistry or physics course.

The club advisers are Mr. Harold Thomas, Mr. Robert Anderson, and Mr. Beryl Lewis.

"Where should this one go?" was a frequent question as Daffi Dabblers decorated the halls for the Christmas season.

Daffi Dabblers Club Has Active Artistic Program

The Art Club, Daffi Dabblers, has as its main goal to create among members a better understanding and appreciation of art.

In October, the Daffi Dabblers had a sketching party and wiener bake at Franke Park. During the Christmas season, they decorated the halls and the auditorium which has become an annual project. "Psycho," an after-game dance, was presented by the club on September 23.

Miss Marjorie Bell and Mr. Donald McClead are the club advisers.

North Side Orators Bring Many Honors to School

National Forensic League and Junior Forensic League combined their activities in order to better carry out their goal of furthering the interest in public speaking in high school.

Formerly, the Junior club served as a feeder club for the more experienced group. This year, however, the meetings and business of the two clubs became joint.

This year's speech club activities included a banquet, an after-game dance, and an Allen County Speech Tournament.

The North Side chapter of National Forensic League, supervised by Stanley H. Lee, now ranks sixth in the state for the N.F.L. state points plaque.

J.F.L. and N.F.L. speakers leave on Saturday for a meet at Peru.

First row: Yvonne Vergon, Judy Gatton—treasurer, Sherry McKay—vice-president, Bonnie Dolnick—president, Anita Medsker—secretary, Harriet High. Second row: Claudia Ackley, Vicki Jornod, Cheryl Smith, Ron Harshman, Sheryl Beitler, Anne Rodgers. Third row: Kathy Bookout, Jackie Nushaumer, Judy Smith, Carol Botteron, Barbara Fuzy. Flashes, Fractions Govern Camera and Math Clubs

Having been formed only last year, Math Club, an affiliate of the national mathematics honorary society, Mu Alpha Theta, is one of the newest clubs at North Side. Math Club pursues knowledge of math beyond the realm of textbooks. Mr. Jerald Miller is the club's adviser.

Camera Club is the answer for all photography enthusiasts. Its purpose is to teach members to take, develop, and enlarge pictures and use many types of cameras.

Under the direction of Mr. Myron Henderson, the club meets bi-monthly.

Booster Club Sells Pins, Shakers at Tourney Time

The members of Booster Club are the first to arrive at the games and the last to leave. Their concession stand keeps the spectators filled and happy, and earns money to carry out the outstanding projects of the club.

Organized in 1927, Booster Club strives to promote and improve school spirit and sportsmanship.

When the team needs backing at out-of-town games, Booster Club rents a bus, fills it with howling Redskins, and sends it off on the warpath to cheer for the team. Booster Club also supervises the pep sessions, provides uniforms for the cheerleaders, and sells novelties at tournament time.

In order to become an active member of Booster Club, a student must be at least a sophomore and must have earned 25 points or more by working on club projects. Awards are presented according to the number of points acquired.

The advisers are Mr. Noel Whittern, Mr. Dale Goon, and Miss Patricia Fleming, who is in charge of the cheerleaders.

Busy Boosters are seen readying refreshments for basketball fans.

Lettermen Lead Varsity Squads, Service Workers

Any North Side boy who has won a letter in a varsity sport or in a managing position is eligible for membership in the recently organized Lettermen's Club. This club presented two pep sessions this year, each of which highlighted the basketball season. The Lettermen's Club meets every second and fourth Tuesday of each month for a half hour before home room period. The club is under the direction of Coach By Hey.

Cheerleaders seem amazed at Wayne Moehle during a pep session.

Ripplettes Entertain Relatives on Family Night

Perfecting their flying dolphin are Lynda High and Sylvia Grant.

Splash! On any given Wednesday this is the sound heard emerging from the pool area. The Ripplettes, North Side's girls' swimming club, is practicing. To join Ripplettes, a girl must perform various strokes and water ballet stunts that are selected and judged by the members.

The club presents a water show biennially. This year there was no show, so the girls practiced longer and harder to perfect their stunts. The Ripplettes had a banquet, held a "Family Nite," and performed for a group of teachers during Teachers' Convention this year. Ripplettes is advised and guided by Mrs. Jeanne Gause.

Athletic GAA Club Stresses Physical Development

Providing after-school fun, the Girls' Athletic Association affords an opportunity for physical development to all North Side girls. Activities such as bowling, ping pong, badminton, archery, basketball, and modern dance are offered. By participating in these sports, girls earn points toward GAA letters. Each year the club sponsors an after-game dance and holds a banquet for its members in the spring.

During their bowling program G.A.A. girls learned to keep score.

Thespians and Instrumentalists Advance Culture

After being in band or orchestra for a year, a student may be selected for membership in NSI, sponsored by Mr. C. William Harr. He is chosen for his interest in music, his talent, and his character. One of the club's services is to co-sponsor Varsity Varieties and to put on the annual Christmas party for the instrumental department.

National Thespians, under the direction of Mr. James Purkhiser, is an honorary organization devoted to creating a more active interest in dramatics. Membership is awarded to students and faculty members who have done outstanding work in the dramatic arts.

Members of National Thespians are Cherry Crandall, Norma Peiper, Sylvia Grant, Lynda High, Pat Mullins, and Dave Walley.

Triple Trio members are Dave Lucas, Al Haney, Rick Parke, Denny Stewart, Stan Gustin, Kent Cecil, Jim Army, Jim Coen, Richard Hostler.

Concert Band Blows Heartily at Concerts and Games

The North Side Marching Redskins with Mr. C. William Hatt as director won the Sweepstakes Trophy in Class A and the Inspection Trophy in the Northern Indiana Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association contest this year. The band presents pregame and halftime shows at all home football and basketball games. It also marches in various town parades.

As the North Side orchestra, conducted by Mr. Hatt, continues to grow, it undertakes more ambitious musical literature. The string members participate in the North Manchester College String Festival and provide music for Fort Wayne graduations and other gatherings. The entire orchestra performs at school concerts and the Northern Indiana Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association contest.

A Cappella and Varsity Choirs Perform Publicly

Under the direction of Miss Rich, A Cappella Choir continues to delight audiences throughout the Fort Wayne area. One of the highlights of the year was the A Cappella's Easter presentation, "The Seven Last Words of Christ." A Cappella now numbers sixty-two.

Membership in Varsity Choir is open to students who have had a year of Girls' or Male Choir. The members train for A Cappella while preparing music for various concerts at North Side.

First row: Marilyn Myers, Pat Givens, Betty Brown, Carol Markwalter, Karen Cearbaugh, Nancy Olinger, Janice Wass, Judy Miller, Carol Harwood, Elaine Frenger, Sandra Castrol, Sue Lieberum, Chori Altekruze, Pat Masloob, Jean Keith, Miss Rich. Male Choir and Girls' Choir Rehearse Diligently

One of the latest additions to the vocal department is the Male Choir. It rehearses third and seventh periods on Mondays and Wednesdays, and first period on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Among its numbers are present members and hopefuls for Triple Trio and A Cappella. The Male Choir now has thirty-nine members.

Any girl interested in vocal music may become a member of the Girls' Choir. This group rehearses fifth period on Mondays and Wednesdays of each week. After a year in Girls' Choir a member may try out for A Cappella or graduate to Varsity Choir. Girls' Choir now has seventy-two members.

High spirits conquered all upon the Redskins' return from South Bend after locking South Bend Central, ranked first in state, in a morale-building tie. Enthusiastic players rewarded the efforts of new head coach Bill Williams with their strong defensive line and superb offensive ground attack which was never stopped throughout the season.

With augmented team spirit the Red and White continued to gain victory the following week as they subdued the Goshen eleven on a rain-soaked battlefield. The only loss by North Side that night was that of a lineman's lower portion of his uniform before the game.

Head Coach Bill Williams shows a new twist to his eager assistants By Hey, John Walter. "Snitz" Snider, and John Becker.

Tension and anxiety mount on the bench as fellow teammates observe the action of the players on the field.

A speedy North Side tailback plunges through an opposing front line for the valuable yardage needed to produce a gridiron victory.

Reserves, Freshmen Gain Experience, Offset Losses

The North Side football reserve team, coached by By Hey, finished its 1960 season with a 2-3-1 record. The "B" group displayed an unusual desire to learn good football and insured the prospects of a fine varsity season for the '61, '62 contingent.

The diminishing number of Redskin frosh had only four games, two of which were played against their future teammates at Northwood and Lakeside junior highs. Although they had little experience, their season will produce some fine sophomore reserves next fall who will be able to overlook their 0-4 record.

Chambersmen Finish Season with 6 Wins, 3 Losses

"We definitely experienced a mediocre season as compared with previous North Side teams," states Coach Rolla P. Chambers. "More than half of the squad was made up of underclassmen with little or no experience."

North's Redskin harrier squad, for the first time since the sport was inaugurated, failed to qualify for state finals. The Chambersmen finished fourth in the Sectional, sixth in the Northern Indiana Conference two-division meet, and established a six-win, three-loss record in the Conference.

One consolation from this year's season was the reserve team, which will form the nucleus of the 1961 team. Comments Chambers, "This group is the best distance group I've ever had—bar none."

A typical race at Franke Park begins with a crowded field. The tight pack soon draws out, however, as the route takes its toll.

Senior Jim Scheele shows the extreme effort it takes to complete the gruelling two-mile cross country course.

Cross country speedster Dana Failor overtakes an opposing runner as Bob Milton and Bill Miller follow in close pursuit.

Cheerleaders Inspire Mass Enthusiasm for Athletes

Representing the combined spirit of the Redskins is the quintet of happy, jumping, cheering girls who make up the varsity cheerleading squad. At each sports event they organize student enthusiasm into cheers which can do the most good for the various athletic teams. The four reserve cheerleaders promote pep at preliminary games, and depth is added to special cheers by the combined forces of the varsity and reserve yell leaders.

The mass of voices that the Redskins hear at basketball games is the final product of the girls' cheering block. Advised by Mrs. Janet Weber, the girls in the block practice two mornings every week to perfect harmonious cheers of inspiration.

Varsity cheerleaders Sue Brown, Donna Bair, Flo Winkler, Carla Wolfe, and Sondra Brown direct a pep session before an important game.

Hi-de, hi-de, hi-de, hi! Hody, hody, hody, ho! Confusion? No, it's organized hysteria, North Side style that is. Members of the cheerblock, sponsored by Mrs. Weber, warm up their vocal chords in the gymnasium on the morning of an important hardwood battle.

North Side reserve cheerleaders for the '60-'61 season were Patt; Hudson; Karen Kelsey; Susie Heffley, captain; and Linda Darnell.

"Tighten up that press!" exclaims By Hey during a tense moment. This was the fiery leadership that gave North a winning season.

Five . . . four . . . three . . . two . . . one . . . and then, pandemonium. Fans leaped over the short wall surrounding the floor and proceeded to mob fourteen tired, sweaty, but happy athletes. A North Side Redskin basketball team had just done what other Red teams had been trying to do for the past six years . . . beat South Side. And, three weeks later, a repeat: same scene, same participants, same results.

Well-drilled and certainly well-inspired by their coach, By Hey, the 1960-61 edition of the Red and White cagers bounced back from a four year drought and compiled a 14 win, 9 loss record in the rugged city and NIC conferences.

Cheers of wild acclaim greet Coach By Hey after South Side dropped to feet of the Redskins in North's second win over the Green.

Redskin guard Denny Krueger drives around a startled opponent.

Ron Cummings displays the tension of keen competition, which, with every team member giving his best, transcends to the fans.

Mark Krieg, a junior this year, mastered the boards with aggressive control. Watch out! He'll be back next year.

Forward Mike Painter, having maneuvered past the opponents' defense, takes off from the hardwood for a two-point lay-up to drop the ball through the ring.

Frosh, Reserves Practice

The North Side reserve basketball team, under the direction of Coach Roy Kline, made a deep impression in the minds of the coaches and fans, compiling a 10-9 record.

The Redskin "B" squadron was also victorious in the annual reserve tourney this year.

Hard for Future Varsity

In the last season of Freshman basketball, Mr. Wade Fredrick produced an excellent 9-4 record with promising frosh material. Outstanding in the season was the match with Bishop Luers which left the Knights in the dark with a big 58 to 18 difference.

North Side's Fame in Track Is Annual Occurrence

"How does he do it?"

A simple enough question, but one that has been perplexing city and area track mentors for years. What is the answer? It is the success of Rolla Chambers.

Aided by a better than usual crop of sophomores, the Redskin squad was again among the pace setters in the city.

Redskin cinder-ramas were highlighted by the performances of veteran Brad Bendure in the hurdles, Stan Heine in the pole-vault, and the speedy clockings of excellent mile and half-mile relay combinations.

Assisting Coach Chambers this season were Mr. Don Kemp and, new to North Side, Mr. Bob Walters.

Post-graduate hurdler Brad Bendure displays the winning form that has brought him many honors, as well as his school.

Following through. Steve Moser shows good form, putting the shot.

Making sure that none of his high jumpers is injured, Coach Rolla Chambers spades the sand in the landing pit.

Landing with a shower of sand, broad jumper Bill Kelley strives with evident exertion to widen the gap between him and the board.

A rugged month of long practice sessions and eight strong teams of the Northern Indiana Tennis Conference confronted the Redskin racketeers last September. The final result of the season's marches was one win and seven losses.

The reserves, along with the varsity team, were able to practice and play their home matches at the much-improved hard-surface courts which had been constructed at Hamilton Park last summer.

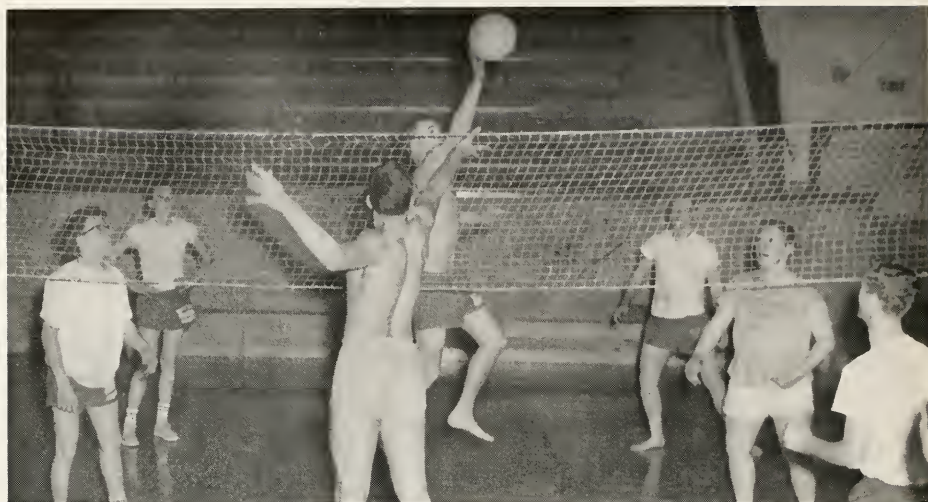

Coach Myron Henderson, who ventured into his seventh season as director of the tennis program, feels that experience will bring improvement next September. The entire tennis team minus one graduating Senior will return next season with more experience.

Captain Jay Osborn makes a driving backhand return.

Two volleyball teams entangle in a slamming fight to the finish with only the frail netting separating the opposing forces.

Intramural Program Offers Individual Competition

Mr. Don Kemp, director of Intramurals, posts the latest results.

Many free periods were devoted to the intramural program by those boys who did not participate in varsity sports. The activities, organized by Mr. Don Kemp, varied according to the season.

Well-liked by numerous boys was the intramural bowling, which lasted from October to March. Also popular was basketball, which annually attracted a great number of amateur cagers. During the basketball games, a table tennis tournament was waged in the upper corridors of the gym. Volleyball was the feature after the basketball play-offs and continued to dominate the indoor activities. Softball, track, golfing, and horse-shoes were included among the outdoor sports.

Bill Siler prepares to engage the small, white sphere with his paddle in a table-tennis match. He may score the first point.

This action under the hoop is typical of Intramural competition.

Doug Boren makes a concentrated effort to topple the ten-pins.

Boys Find Fun, Games, Swimming in Physical Ed

Physical education classes lend much to the development of freshman and sophomore boys at a time of rapid physical growth. Co-ordination, physical strength, and competitive spirit result from varied gymnastic activities.

Each boy's physical education course is divided into three sections. One-third of the semester is spent in Mr. Hyrle Ivy's swimming class, where non-swimmers are taught the fundamentals of swimming, and experienced swimmers are given the chance to apply what they have learned. Another part of the semester is spent in Mr. Don Kemp's physical development class where the boys run distance, work with weights, and learn beginning gymnastics. The remaining third of the semester is spent in Mr. By Hey's gym class in which the boys participate in the current sport of the season.

Splash! Another swimmer in Mr. Ivy's class takes the plunge.

Learning to vault the horse is one phase of physical development which helps the boys acquire agility and co-ordination.

Girls Develop Coordination, Skill in Gym Classes

Members of the advanced swimming class present their water show

The North Side physical education course for girls offers a choice of either gym or swimming.

In the gym classes, Miss Ruth Carroll and Mrs. Jeanne Gause direct the girls in current sports, games, and dances. An opportunity is provided for self-expression through interpretive dancing, and old-fashioned square dancing offers a contrasting change from daily routine. The gym class program also includes such games as volleyball, soccer, and softball.

Beginning, intermediate, and advanced sectioning is included in the swimming course taught by Mrs. Jeanne Gause. However, senior lifesaving may be elected for one semester instead of advanced swimming.

By practicing their square dance routines, girls in Miss Carroll's gym classes obtain their exercise.
